

Headcorn Aerodrome Kent TN279HX

Important Information Regarding Tickets for a Purported “Battle of Britain” Event

Dear Ticket Holder,

We are writing to provide important information in relation to tickets that have been purchased for an event advertised as a “Battle of Britain” airshow at Headcorn Aerodrome in 2026.

For clarity and transparency, we set out below the official public statement issued by Headcorn Aerodrome.

Public Statement: Clarification Regarding “Battle of Britain” Event

Date: 7th January 2026

Headcorn Aerodrome confirms that it has not granted permission, entered into any agreement, or provided a venue for any proposed “Battle of Britain” event.

At present, the only sanctioned large-scale airshow scheduled to take place at Headcorn Aerodrome in 2026 is the Headcorn International Airshow. Tickets are sold at headcornairshow.com/tickets only.

Any event advertised to take place at the aerodrome under the name “Battle of Britain” has not been authorised, sanctioned, or approved by Headcorn Aerodrome, and the aerodrome is not involved in its organisation or delivery.

Members of the public should note that any ticket sales for such an event are not associated with Headcorn Aerodrome.

Anyone who has purchased tickets is advised to contact the relevant ticket seller directly regarding their purchase.

Kind Regards,

Headcorn Aerodrome

What to Do If You Have Purchased Tickets

If you have purchased tickets for an event advertised as a “Battle of Britain” airshow at Headcorn Aerodrome, you should contact the ticket seller directly regarding your purchase and any refund position.

Police Information

This matter has been brought to the attention of Kent Police for review. Kent Police have advised that individuals who believe they may have been affected are entitled to contact them directly. Please contact 101 quoting the reference number below

KENT POLICE Crime Reference Number 46/16309/26

Kent Police have advised that reports from affected individuals may assist their enquiries and may be referred to Report Fraud UK, the national fraud intelligence service, if appropriate.

If you become aware of any additional relevant information, Kent Police request that it is reported quoting the above reference number.

We appreciate that this situation may be concerning and encourage anyone affected to seek clarification directly from the ticket provider and, where appropriate, the police.

Kind regards,

Headcorn Aerodrome